

Proyecto SIRENA:

Sistema Remoto Integral de Monitorización, Detección y Predicción de Riesgos de Eventos Marinos Potencialmente Nocivos de Origen Natural o Antrópico en Áreas Off-Shore Destinadas a la Acuicultura

Informe final de Resultados / Fuente de Verificación

FV1.1 Informe con miniaturas y resultados obtenidos para Sentinel 1

Fecha: 18/02/2026

Entidad Responsable: Universidad de Las Palmas de Gran Canaria (ULPGC)

Este proyecto se desarrolla con la colaboración de la Fundación Biodiversidad del Ministerio para la Transición Ecológica y el Reto Demográfico, a través del Programa Pleamar, y se cofinancia por la Unión Europea por el FEMPA (Fondo Europeo Marítimo, de Pesca y de Acuicultura).

1. Introducción

El presente informe ha sido elaborado por el Laboratorio de Teledetección del Instituto Universitario ECOAQUA – ULPGC en el marco del Proyecto SIRENA, con el objetivo de documentar los resultados finales obtenidos mediante el análisis de imágenes satelitales Sentinel-1.

Desde el 27 de julio de 2024 hasta el 15 de febrero de 2026, se han procesado un total de 427 escenas de Sentinel-1, cuyos metadatos y miniaturas se recogen en este documento. Para cada escena se incluye la fecha y hora de adquisición, el nombre de la imagen, una miniatura de la escena sin procesar, el número de objetos (blobs) detectados y validados, y su superficie estimada en metros cuadrados.

Al término del proyecto, no se han reportado positivos confirmados de blooms en las imágenes analizadas dentro de la zona de estudio propuesta. Este documento constituye, por tanto, una fuente de verificación de los procedimientos técnicos y del estado de avance del sistema automatizado de detección.

Las opiniones y documentación aportadas en esta publicación son de exclusiva responsabilidad de la persona o personas que ostenten su autoría y no reflejan necesariamente los puntos de vista de las entidades que apoyan económicamente el proyecto.
